Description
Panoramic views of the sea set the tone for this residential field in the village of Ineia, in the Paphos district. Picture the sea stretched out across the horizon, with village life close at hand and the beach at Toxeftra a drive away for long days by the water.

The land covers 3,345 m², with a mostly flat surface that slopes gently and an irregular outline. Its residential zoning gives room for a home, one that could be placed to take in that wide sea view. The village centre, with its cafés and shops, is nearby, so everyday needs stay within easy reach of the village.

The land has no direct road access.

In a hillside village setting, with the sea laid out before it, this is ground where a future home could open onto the view and the village life around it.
