Description
Close to the heart of Kelokedara, a short way from the village centre and its church of Agios Georgios, three adjoining fields come together as one large holding. Village life is close by, with restaurants and cafés a short drive away and the neighbouring villages of Trachypedoula and Agios Georgios within easy reach. The land is irregular in shape and sloping, and it is sold as a single unit. Part of it lies in a residential zone, with room for a home, and part is agricultural land suited to farming. The fields front a public road along several boundaries, giving direct road access. A protective metal railing limits access along part of that frontage. An asphalt road also runs through the land. Beyond the village, the Sanctuary of the Paphian Aphrodite and the Souskiou-Vathyrkakas Cemetery are a drive away, and Paphos International Airport is about 15 km off. Here is a large piece of Paphos countryside, held together in one parcel, with traditional village charm all around it.
