For Sale : € 115,000

Description
Olive trees grow across this sloping stretch of land in Ineia, a village in the Paphos countryside. The village centre lies a short drive away, and the sandy shore at Toxeftra beach is a drive away. Village life and the coast both sit within reach of this setting.

Two neighbouring fields are offered together as a single holding of 4,349 m². The land falls within a touristic zone, so its general use is tourism. The olive trees already rooted here show that the ground is fertile and can be cultivated. Picture walking the slope between the old trees, with the village on one side and the sea a drive away on the other.

The land has no direct road access.

What stays with you is the simple character of the place: sizeable land with olive trees, a touristic zone and a Paphos village close by.
