Description
Set in open countryside in the Paphos district, this sloping field in Prastio offers 13,044 m² of agricultural land for farming or planting. The ground rises on an incline and has an irregular shape, and the land has direct road access along one boundary.

The village centre, Pano Archimandrita and Maronas are all a short drive away, while main roads and the Limassol–Paphos Motorway can be reached by car. The surroundings of Prastio are rural and open, away from dense development. This is a generous parcel of sloping farmland with its own road access.
