Description
An agricultural field on the market in Arminou, Cyprus, covering 4181 m² of open countryside in the Paphos district. The land lies in natural surroundings away from dense development. The village centre and the neighbouring villages of Agios Ioannis and Mesana are a short drive away.

The field is irregular in shape and the ground is uneven, so it suits farming or planting that works with the lie of the land. There is no direct road access, although a public road lies a short distance away. This is a versatile piece of agricultural land with a generous area of open ground in Arminou.
