Description
Two adjoining fields make up this agricultural land for sale in Fterikoudi. They are offered together as a single holding of 2,797 m², zoned for farming use. The ground slopes and is irregular in shape, and it sits in open countryside a short drive from the village centre. The land has no direct road access. The neighbouring villages of Askas and Platanistasa are also a short drive away, a petrol station is within reach, and the main roads of the wider region lie further afield. Taken together, the two fields form one practical, uncomplicated piece of agricultural land in the Fterikoudi countryside.
