For Sale : € 35,000

Description
Schools on the doorstep and the village centre within walking distance: this residential field for sale in Akaki keeps everyday life within easy reach. Restaurants, cafés and a green space for evening strolls are all close enough to walk to, giving the setting a welcoming, lived-in feel.

The land covers 558 m² in a regular, well-proportioned shape, with a sloping surface and direct road access. Its residential zoning makes it a natural place to plan a family home, designed around the way you want to live.

Supermarkets, pharmacies and medical centres are a short drive away, as are main roads and the neighbouring village of Paliometocho. For weekends and free time, the nature spot of Lefkovounos and the local stadium are close by, while the motorway brings the rest of the district within comfortable reach.

Akaki offers authentic Cypriot village life together with the practical comforts of a well-served community. This plot sits close to its heart, where a new home could share the rhythm of the village from the very first day.
