Description
A field on the market in Episkopeio, Cyprus, set in open countryside in the Nicosia district. The land covers 9699 m² of agricultural ground with an even surface and an irregular outline. It also has direct road access, which makes it simple to reach for farming or planting.

The villages of Politiko and Arediou are a short drive away, as are the village centre and petrol stations. The main roads, motorway junctions and the Nicosia motorway network are within a drive. This sale is for a two-thirds share of the field. It is a level, accessible piece of farmland in a rural setting.
