Description
A livestock field is on the market in Orounta, Cyprus, set in open countryside in the Nicosia district. The land covers 3345 m² of agricultural ground, regular in shape with a sloping surface, and lies in an area given over to farming and animal breeding. The neighbouring villages of Potami and Kato Moni are a short drive from Orounta. The field itself has no direct road access. This is a straightforward piece of farmland with a regular outline, suited to grazing or other agricultural use.
