Description
Picture a sweep of open land on the edge of authentic Cypriot village life, where the pace slows and the countryside sets the tone. This field for sale in Drouseia offers 9292 m² of space within a residential zone, giving room to imagine a home surrounded by landscape rather than neighbours.

Everyday needs sit within a short drive: the village centre, restaurants and cafés, supermarkets and shops, petrol stations, and parks and green spaces for a stroll. The neighbouring villages of Ineia and Tera are also close, each adding to the traditional character of this corner of Paphos. Main roads, a bus station and a sports venue are a drive away, and the coast is within reach when the beaches call. Paphos International Airport is about 25 km away, keeping the wider world comfortably connected.

Life here means a closer connection to nature and the authentic side of Cyprus, away from dense urban development. The generous size of the land leaves plenty of freedom to shape a home around the setting, with village charm on the doorstep and the open landscape all around.
