Description
Set in an open countryside setting, this field in Politiko gives a buyer a generous 4,683 m² of land in the Nicosia district, away from dense urban development. The village centre of Politiko is a short drive away, as are neighbouring Klirou and local petrol stations. The main roads and the motorway network towards Nicosia lie a drive away, so the land stays well connected while keeping its rural character. This is an uncomplicated rural land purchase: a well-proportioned piece of the Cypriot countryside on the edge of a long-established village.
