Description
An 892 m² agricultural field in Ergates, in the Nicosia district, set in an open countryside setting away from dense urban development. Its agricultural zoning suits planting and cultivation, or simply keeping a modest piece of the Cypriot countryside. It could also be a practical addition to an existing agricultural holding.

The village centre, neighbouring villages, petrol stations and main roads are all a short drive away. The wider motorway network around Nicosia is also within a drive, so the land is easy to reach from the capital. This is an uncomplicated, versatile field in the farmland around Ergates.
