On the rural edge of Ergates, where the Nicosia countryside...

For Sale : € 32,000

Description
On the rural edge of Ergates, where the Nicosia countryside stretches out between small village communities, this livestock field offers a generous 11,000 m² of agricultural land. Agioi Trimithias lies right alongside, and Paliometocho is only a short drive away, so village life and everyday needs are never far off.

The land has an irregular shape and a sloping surface that follows the natural lie of the countryside. It is reached by a dirt track, and as a livestock field its use is farming and the keeping of animals.

Supermarkets and shops, schools, cafés and restaurants are all a short drive away, as are public service offices, bus stations and the main roads that connect the area with the wider district. For time outdoors, the Korakas nature spot and a park are also close at hand.

What stays with you is the space itself: a broad stretch of agricultural land in the Ergates area, with a strong local identity, the slower pace of village life and the open landscape all around.
