Description
Village life in Peristerona sets the tone for this two-storey house, set on its own plot with a garden and direct road access. The village centre, with its shops and everyday errands, is a short drive away, so daily life stays simple and close to home. Inside, the house spreads comfortably across its levels. Living space sits on the ground floor, the three bedrooms are upstairs, and a lower level adds room of its own. Two bathrooms ease the busy morning routine, while heating and air conditioning keep the rooms comfortable through the cold months and the long summers. Built with a reinforced concrete frame and brick, the house is in a good state of repair. Outdoors, a covered veranda offers a shaded place for a slow breakfast or a coffee as the evening cools, and the garden gives the household a green space to enjoy the open air. The house is currently occupied. A generous village home with space indoors and out, it leaves plenty of room for the life you want to build in Peristerona.
