Description
Village life with room to breathe: this detached two-storey house in Koili sits on a generous plot of 2,007 m², with a swimming pool, terraces and a courtyard made for long summer evenings outdoors.

Inside, the ground floor opens into a combined living, dining and kitchen space, the natural heart of the home. It also has a guest toilet and a bedroom with its own en-suite bathroom. Upstairs are three more bedrooms, a family bathroom and a separate laundry room, a layout well suited to everyday family life.

The sloping grounds are fenced, with a storeroom and covered parking. Built around 2010, the house offers comfortable, uncomplicated living rather than show.

The village centre, schools, shops and cafés are a short drive away, as are neighbouring Tsada and the Kamares and Tala areas, and main roads are a drive away too. Four bedrooms, a swimming pool and generous space all around add up to authentic Cypriot village life in Koili, with the comforts of a modern family home.
