For Sale : € 68,000

Description
Geri has the easy rhythm of an established Nicosia suburb. Homes and businesses sit side by side here, and plenty of everyday amenities are close at hand.

Within this setting lies a residential field of 8,037 m², with an even surface from one side to the other. Its residential zoning points plainly to a home, and building of up to two floors is permitted. Picture a house taking shape on level ground, with the daily life of the neighbourhood carrying on around it.

Getting about is straightforward. Latsia is a short drive away for errands and a meal out, and the Nicosia–Limassol motorway is within easy reach for longer journeys.

The sale is of a one-quarter share of the field. Level residential land in a lived-in suburb of the capital makes an honest, grounded setting for a home.
