Description
In the village of Palodeia, a large residential field of 7,860 m² offers room to imagine a home with the everyday life of a Limassol community around it. Schools are within walking distance, and Limassol General Hospital is only a short drive away, so daily needs stay comfortably close.

The land has direct road access along one side, and a registered footpath reaches it from the other. Its residential zoning allows a home of up to two floors. That gives you a clear, honest starting point for shaping a house on a sizeable plot, with a village setting just beyond its edges.

Think of it as a place to plan at your own pace, where the shape of a future home can take form on open village land. Paramytha also lies a short drive away, close enough for errands and outings while the village stays your daily backdrop.

The sale is for a 40% share of the field.

A large plot, a residential setting and the conveniences of Limassol within easy reach come together here in an appealing balance.
