For Sale : € 12,000

Description
Right beside the heart of Theletra village, this level stretch of residential land sits on a corner with public roads running along two of its sides. The village centre is only a short stroll away, and cafés, shops and green spaces are a short drive away, as is the neighbouring village of Kathikas.

The field covers 2,676 m² in total. Its flat surface keeps building straightforward, and its long frontage on both roads gives it direct road access and an open, visible position. The residential zoning allows a home of up to two floors, so it is easy to picture a house taking shape here, with the life of the village close around it.

This is a setting where everyday errands and a walk to the centre fit naturally into the day, while the landscape of the Paphos hills stays part of the backdrop. The sale is of a 33% share of the field.

A flat corner site at the heart of Theletra, with room for a home and roads on two sides.
