Description
Open countryside and a deep sense of calm surround this residential field on the rural outskirts of Korfi, in the Agios Mamas area of Limassol. The village centre lies just beyond it, close enough to share in village life, while the land itself keeps the quiet and privacy of the countryside.

With 9,365 m² of residential land, there is room to shape a home with generous open surroundings. The parcel also suits a larger housing scheme or division into separate plots, and building up to two floors is permitted. Picture the slow pace of a village morning, with fields around you and the wider region within reach.

A connecting road between the villages runs close by, and the area's main routes are within easy reach. Shops and cafés are a short drive away for everyday needs.

This is a large, tranquil stretch of Limassol countryside, with the space and the residential zoning to plan a home around an unhurried village way of life.
