Description
Agioi Omologites sits at the heart of Nicosia's commercial and administrative life. Here, multi-storey office buildings and residential flats line the streets, and the Venetian Walls of the old city are a short distance away. Cafés and restaurants sit right beside this land, and shops and schools are within walking distance.

Four continuous plots come together to form 2,126 m² of flat land in a commercial zone. A long frontage onto a major city avenue is joined by a second frontage on a public street. The land has direct road access from two sides and stands in clear view of passing traffic.

The zone allows building up to eight floors. The size and level ground suit a mixed-use project that brings together business premises and homes. One of the plots holds an obsolete building.

A sizeable, level site in central Nicosia, with offices, homes and cafés all around it.
