Description
Outside the centre of Astromeritis village, in the Nicosia district, lies 8,696 m² of flat land zoned for business use. Its level surface gives a simple, uncomplicated starting point for premises where a business can take shape on a generous footprint.

The zoning allows building on up to two floors. The field does not front a road itself, though a road lies close by.

The village centre and its everyday services are a short drive away. Main roads link the area to the neighbouring villages and the wider region, so the field sits within easy reach of the surrounding district.

Flat, sizeable and set aside for business, this is land with a clear purpose in a working rural corner of Nicosia.
