For Sale : € 195,000

Description
On the edge of Athienou, one of Larnaca's well-loved inland villages, this residential land offers a generous canvas of 7,024 m², flat and neatly rectangular, with room to plan around village life. The primary school is not far away, so everyday routines stay close to home. Today the land is cultivated, giving it an open, green character. A registered dirt road runs along its frontage and gives the land direct road access. Permission has already been granted to divide it into six separate plots, with homes of up to two floors allowed. That approval gives a clear head start for anyone with a measured plan in mind. The even ground and simple shape make it easy to picture how the plots and homes could take form, each with control over its own layout and materials. A sizeable piece of Athienou, with its next chapter already mapped out.
