Description
The beach is within walking distance, the Liopetri canal lies close by, and the Liopetri National Forest Park can also be reached on foot. This is coastal countryside where life is lived largely outdoors, and here 24 fields together cover 195,003 m² of open land.

The ground is flat throughout, which makes the whole holding easy to walk and to read at a glance. Several roads lead to the land, giving it direct road access.

The fields fall under a mix of touristic, agricultural and protection zoning. The touristic land suits tourist use, and the agricultural land suits farming. Part of the land lies in a protection zone. Together they offer a sizeable holding with more than one use across its area, set between the sea and the green of the forest park.

Larnaca International Airport is about 25 km away. Flat land, a large area and the sea within walking distance make this a stretch of Liopetri coast well worth getting to know.
