For Sale : € 290,000

Description
Anglisides sets the scene: a Larnaca village with its own primary school close by, and a residential field of 14,716 m² that gives you real breadth of ground in a setting with a strong local character.

The land sits in a residential zone, where building on up to two floors is allowed. That means room for a home planned around the land, the light of the countryside and the village life around it. A main road linking the nearby villages runs close to the field.

Day-to-day life stays easy. The village centre is a short drive away, the Larnaca to Limassol motorway is within easy reach, and Larnaca International Airport is a drive away, which helps when you are travelling to and from the island.

Sizeable land, a village with its school nearby and permission for a two-storey home: the next chapter of your plans could start here, in Anglisides.
