For Sale : € 555,000

Description
Parks and green spaces sit right beside this detached home in a quiet residential part of Aglantzia, with supermarkets and shops within an easy walk. It is a setting where everyday life feels unhurried, yet the city is never far away.

The ground floor brings together a living room with its own bar, an open-plan dining and sitting area and the kitchen, along with a guest toilet and handy internal storage. It is easy to picture friends gathering at the bar before dinner. Upstairs, three bedrooms include a master with its own en-suite. A separate office gives a calm place to work away from family life, and there is also a main bathroom.

Outside, the flat plot holds a private yard and a covered veranda of 40 m², a shaded spot for long lunches and slow evenings outdoors. Below the house, a covered parking space and a service room keep the practical side neatly out of sight.

The motorway is close at hand, and both Strovolos and central Nicosia are a short drive away. This is a generous, well-planned home in a quiet residential setting that stays well connected to the city.
