For Sale : € 500,000

Description
Aglantzia brings everyday life within easy reach. Schools and green parks lie within walking distance, and central Nicosia is only a short drive away, so a home here can feel settled in a neighbourhood while staying close to the city.

The land itself is simple to read and easy to love. It measures 538 m², is flat and has a tidy rectangular shape, so you can set your design priorities from the very start. A generous frontage gives it direct road access, and the residential zoning allows a home of up to two floors.

Picture the first sketches taking form: a house planned around the way you want to live rather than someone else's floor plan, with the morning school walk and an afternoon in the park part of the routine. There is room here for a home built to your own brief, from the layout of the rooms to the way it sits on the land.

A flat, well-shaped piece of Aglantzia, waiting for the home you have in mind.
