For Sale : € 240,000

Description
Cafés and restaurants a short stroll away, the heritage site of Agios Efstathios within walking distance, and a covered veranda to come home to: life in Agios Loukas, Kolossi, keeps an easy village rhythm. This modern two-bedroom apartment sits on the second floor of a building in a residential neighbourhood, a short walk from the community centre.

Inside, the kitchen, dining and living area share one open-plan space, made for long meals together and relaxed evenings. Two bedrooms, a main bathroom and a separate guest toilet complete the layout, so visiting friends never have to queue. Step out onto the veranda and you have a sheltered spot for a morning coffee or a quiet moment at the end of the day.

The practical side is covered too. Two covered parking spaces and three storage rooms on the ground floor keep bikes, boxes and seasonal clutter out of the living space, and main roads are within easy reach for getting around the wider area.

A comfortable home with village life right on the doorstep.
