Description
Kapparis is a coastal community that is lived in all year round, not only in summer, and this first-floor apartment sits with the nearest beach close by. Paralimni town is a short drive away whenever you want more shops, cafés and everyday errands.

Inside, the living room and kitchen flow together as one open space, the natural heart of the home for cooking, talking and unwinding at the end of the day. Three bedrooms and a bathroom complete the layout, so there is a room for everyone or a spare room for visiting family and friends.

Much of the pleasure here lies outdoors. An uncovered veranda of 28 m² opens the home to the sky, with room for a table, a few chairs and slow evenings after a morning by the sea. The apartment is set in a small two-storey building and comes with its own uncovered parking space, which makes coming and going simple.

A comfortable home near the coast, in a place where life carries on through every season.
