Description
In the Paphos village of Neo Chorio, a short way from the village centre, this residential field keeps traditional restaurants and cafés within walking distance. Everyday errands are easy too, with supermarkets and shops close enough to reach on foot. It suits a life lived at village pace, with the coast never far away.

The land covers 3,345 m² and is zoned for residential use. That leaves room for a home shaped around your own brief, with full say over its layout, materials and finish. The size of the plot gives you freedom to decide how the house sits on the land and how much open ground you keep around it.

Beyond the village, the beaches, Latchi and Polis Chrysochous are a short drive away. The Akamas National Park and the Baths of Aphrodite are within easy reach as well, for walks and days out along this stretch of coast. Paphos International Airport is about 35 km away.

It offers an authentic village setting, the sea close by and the chance to create a home that is entirely your own.
