For Sale : € 60,000

Description
Ancient Idalion lies within walking distance of this residential land in Panagia Evangelistria, a quarter of Dali where the story of a very old place sits alongside everyday village life. The land is only a short way from the centre of the community, so local life is close at hand.

The land covers 2,455 m² and is zoned for residential use. That leaves room for a home of your own design, shaped to your own way of living. Frontage onto the road on more than one side gives the land direct road access, and schools sit right beside it.

Picture a home rising here, with the community around it and the remains of an ancient city a stroll away. The land offers a setting with roots that reach far back, and a neighbourhood where a new chapter could begin. The sale is for a 33% share of the land.

A residential setting in Dali, with history on one side and village life on the other.
