Description
In the Agioi Konstantinos and Eleni quarter of Dali, 4,618 m² of residential land offers a generous canvas for a home shaped entirely around your own ideas.

The residential zoning points to one clear purpose: room for a home. There is no off-the-shelf layout to adapt. You decide the layout, the materials and the finish from the very first sketch. On land of this size there is space to place the house where it suits you best.

Daily life stays within easy reach. Supermarkets and shops are a short drive away, and so is Latsia, with everything it adds to the area around Dali. The land has no direct road access.

A sizeable residential plot in Dali, waiting for the home you have in mind.
