For Sale : € 67,500

Description
Lasa, a village in the Paphos district, is the setting for this sizeable residential field, close to the heart of the village. Life here moves at village pace, with the centre close at hand and the neighbouring villages of Drymou and Thrinia a short drive away.

At 3,679 m², the land has room for a home of your own with generous space around it. You can picture building something lasting here, part of a village community rather than apart from it, with familiar streets and local faces just around the corner.

The main road towards Polis Chrysochous is easy to reach, so the wider area is never far away when you want a change of scene. It is the authentic side of Paphos life: a residential plot in a real village, ready for a home that grows into its surroundings.

A large piece of land near the centre of Lasa, waiting for the home that will make the most of it.
