Description
In the farming countryside of Lasa, in the Paphos district, two adjacent agricultural fields together make up 14,047 m² of land. The wider area around them is agricultural too, and the ground lends itself to farming or planting.

One of the two fields has direct road access along one side. The centre of Lasa is a short drive away, as are the neighbouring villages of Drymou and Simou, and main roads are a drive away. The sale is an 87.5% share of each field. Side by side, the two fields form one sizeable piece of agricultural land.
