For Sale : € 180,000

Description
Village life in the Paphos countryside sets the scene for this large residential field, which lies close to the centre of Choletria. The cafés and the everyday comings and goings of the village are never far away. With 10,034 m² of land zoned for residential use, there is room for a home shaped around your own priorities from the very first sketch. The surroundings are mostly similar fields, with some residential developments among them, which gives the area a gentle countryside character. Neighbouring Fasoula, parks and green spaces, and the heritage site of Souskiou-Vathyrkakas Cemetery are all a short drive away, so village calm sits alongside places worth exploring. The land has no direct road access. A generous piece of Choletria, close to the heart of the village, ready for the home you have in mind.
