Description
In the village of Astromeritis, two neighbouring residential fields sit side by side, together offering 12,444 m² of land. Joined as one large holding, they have direct road access, and the village centre is only a short drive away.

The residential zoning gives room for a home here, set in village life with its own rhythm. Picture a morning errand in the village centre, a coffee at a local café, then back to your own generous patch of land. Everyday shops are within easy reach, so daily needs never feel far off.

The position also opens up the wider region. Both Nicosia and Troodos are within comfortable reach, so time in the city or in the hills can easily be part of the week. The neighbouring village of Peristerona is a short drive away as well, adding to the life of the area.

Two fields, one sizeable holding and direct road access, all in a welcoming village setting. It is a chance to plan a home with land around it, close to everything the village offers.
