Description
Just a short walk from the heart of Kato Platres, this residential land sits among village homes and mountain holiday houses, with cafés and restaurants within easy strolling distance. Mornings could begin with coffee in the village and end with dinner a few steps from home. The setting is gentle, settled and close to everything the village offers.

At 11,212 m², the land gives generous room for a home designed around the mountain setting. It has direct road access, with frontage on the main village road and on a public pathway. A road already crosses the land, and parts of it are expected to be taken for planned road works.

Beyond the village, the Troodos National Forest Park is a short drive away, bringing its trails and green landscapes close to hand. The nearby village of Foini is within easy reach too. Everyday errands are simple from here, while the life of the village stays right on the doorstep.

A large stretch of residential land in a mountain village, close to its centre and its cafés, with the forest park only a short drive beyond.
