Description
Restaurants and cafés sit right next door, while shops and schools lie within walking distance. Everyday life in Chryseleousa, Strovolos, can unfold easily on foot, and Nicosia's city centre stays within easy reach when the day calls for it.

Set on the sixth floor of a residential building, this three-bedroom apartment offers 171 m² of covered living space. An open-plan living and dining area forms the heart of the home, where family time and gatherings with friends flow naturally from one space to the next. A kitchen and three bedrooms complete the layout.

Two terraces take life outdoors, and one has its own barbecue. Picture a summer evening there, the grill warming up and the table set for a long, unhurried meal with friends.

The apartment is currently occupied. The building has been declared dangerous by the local authority.

Well-proportioned rooms, a barbecue terrace and a neighbourhood of cafés on the doorstep give this Strovolos home plenty to offer.
