Description
Daily life in Geroskipou is right on the doorstep here. Supermarkets and shops stand next door, and the town centre, with its cafés, restaurants and public offices, is within walking distance.

Set over two storeys, the building holds two separate homes. On the ground floor, two bedrooms share a living room, a kitchen and a bathroom. Upstairs, the larger home has three bedrooms, its own living room and kitchen, and two bathrooms. Covered verandas, a parking space and a plot of 558 m² complete the picture.

Picture an unhurried morning: a stroll into the centre for coffee, groceries picked up on the way back, and no need for the car. Built in 1955, the building has been part of this residential neighbourhood for generations, and its two-home layout gives a generous amount of living space under one roof. The building is currently occupied.

Two homes, one address, and the everyday life of Geroskipou all around them.
