For Sale : € 4,285,000

Description
Sea views and forest-fringed slopes set the scene for these seven adjoining fields just outside Pigenia, a short drive from the village centre and its everyday shops. Together they form a large sweep of sloping, irregular ground that looks out across the surrounding countryside and towards the sea.

Around the land, forest and open parcels set the tone, with only a scattering of homes nearby, so the landscape stays at the heart of the place. Two of the fields lie right beside the coastal road and have direct road access, and one is reached by a dirt track. Three of the fields have no direct road access. Utility services are not fully in place.

The land sits in a residential zone, where building on up to two floors is allowed. That gives room for a home shaped around the slope, with the sea on the horizon each morning and the evening light settling over the hills and the forest beyond.

For anyone drawn to wide open land on the authentic side of Cyprus, this is a setting to walk and take in, where the view of the sea rewards every step up the slope.
