Description
Polis Chrysochous sets the scene: shops, restaurants and cafés are within walking distance, and the beaches are a short drive away. Here, four adjoining fields come together as 26,521 m² of residential land, close enough to town for everyday life on foot and close enough to the coast for easy days by the sea.

The ground is relatively flat, and the fields share frontage onto the road, giving the land direct road access. Water, electricity and telecommunications are available. Around it, residential homes sit alongside other undeveloped parcels, so the setting already has the feel of a lived-in neighbourhood.

The residential zoning allows building of up to two floors. Picture a home here: a morning stroll to a café in town, an afternoon at the beach, and the evening back on your own land in the Cyprus sunshine. Paphos International Airport is about 35 km away.

Three of the fields are offered in full, and the fourth as a 73% share. Flat, serviced residential land within walking reach of town life and a short drive from the coast.
