Description
In the well-developed suburb of Agios Vasileios, Strovolos, this large, level residential plot of 2,471 m² sits among middle-class homes and apartment blocks, with everyday life close at hand.

Its flat, rectangular shape is a clear and straightforward starting point. It fronts a street on two sides, giving direct road access from either one. Water, electricity and telecommunication services already reach the land. The residential zoning allows a home of up to three floors, so you can shape the layout around your own priorities from the very start.

The neighbourhood is part of daily life here. Supermarkets and shops stand right beside the plot, and schools are within walking distance. The centre of Nicosia is within comfortable reach, and a good spread of businesses lines the main streets nearby.

This is a generous, level plot in a settled, well-served neighbourhood, with room for a home designed entirely around the way you want to live.
