For Sale : € 811,000

Description
Above Paphos, where open parcels of land sit beside a scattering of homes, this sizeable field of 19,064 m² gives you a generous piece of Tsada to call your own. It lies within a residential zone, so its general use is a home, and the zoning allows up to two floors.

The land is irregular in shape and its surface slopes, a ground that invites a home shaped around its natural lines rather than a flat, uniform plot. Water, electricity and telecommunications can be brought to the land. It has no direct road access.

Life here is close to village rhythms. The centre of Tsada, with its cafés, shops and schools, is a short drive away, and neighbouring Koili is also within easy reach for everyday errands and a change of scene.

A large field in a residential setting on the edge of village life, with room for a home on its own sloping ground.
