Description
Restaurants and cafés lie within walking distance, and the centre of Kakopetria is close by. This residential setting in the village is home to a three-storey building from 2011, set on a sizeable plot of 1,673 m², with two separate homes under one roof.

On the ground floor, a two-bedroom house centres on an open-plan living and dining room, with a separate sitting room, a kitchen, an en-suite bedroom and a bathroom. One level down, a larger three-bedroom house follows the same inviting layout, again with an en-suite bedroom. Both homes have a fireplace, central heating, double-glazed windows and provisions for split units. Picture a winter evening with the fire lit and the family gathered in the sitting room.

A lift serves the house, and the lowest floor holds a storage room and a mechanical room. Outside, a separate service building contains an en-suite bedroom of its own.

Two full homes, a sizeable plot and village life on the doorstep make this a building well worth a visit.
