Description

Small Development and High-Value Living

This under-division industrial plot in Kaimakli represents a strategic entry into Nicosia's most significant urban revitalization zone. Falling within the Ba3 industrial planning zone, the property offers a robust building density of 100% and a high coverage factor of 60%. As of 2026, this area is at the center of the SOPAZ revamp project, which is transforming the eastern districts into a modern pillar of economic and research activity. The high-intensity industrial factors make this plot an ideal foundation for high-spec logistics centers, modern workshops, or light manufacturing facilities that require proximity to the capital's core. Positioning your operations here ensures a long-term competitive advantage within a district undergoing a massive, state-backed transformation, a transition we have monitored through 3 decades of experience.
