For Sale : € 485,000

Description
A short walk from the beach at Pomos, this large residential field sits on a relaxed stretch of the Paphos coast. Scattered homes share the landscape with open, undeveloped land, and the village centre, its cafés and the Pomos fishing shelter are all a short drive away.

The land covers 7,670 m², with an irregular shape, a smooth, gentle slope and direct road access along one side. Its residential zoning leaves room for a home of up to two floors, and the site can be connected to water, electricity and telecommunications.

Picture a home rising on that gentle slope, with mornings that begin with a stroll down to the shore and evenings spent in the easy rhythm of a coastal village. The Pomos Reservoir is also a short drive inland for days when the countryside calls.

The sea, the village and a sizeable piece of land to shape around your own plans come together here in Pomos.
