Description
In Agioi Trimithias, a short drive from the village of Paliometocho, this field of 8,696 m² lies among scattered homes, cultivated fields and open farmland. Part of the land falls in an agricultural zone, suited to farming, and part in a residential zone, with room for a home. The ground slopes gently, and water services reach the land.

The land has no direct road access. It is a sizeable field that combines farmland with a residential part in a single plot.
