Description
In Nisou, open parcels of land share the landscape with a handful of residential developments. Among them lies a sizeable field of 6,950 m², zoned for residential use, where you can begin to picture a home of your own on land with a real sense of space around it.

The zoning allows a home of up to two floors. The ground slopes and has an irregular outline, so any design would be shaped around the lie of the land. Electricity, water and telecommunications can all be connected. The land has no direct road access.

Village life carries on around it. The village centre and local schools are a short drive away, and the neighbouring village of Dali is close by too, so daily errands and school runs stay simple.

A large piece of residential land in Nisou, with room to plan a home in a setting that still feels open.
