Description
Just beyond the heart of Anageia, this large field sits where village homes meet farmland, keeping the authentic side of village life close at hand. The village centre is a short stroll away, and the local schools and public offices are within walking distance.

The 4,023 m² plot lies in a residential zone, with room for a home of up to two floors. Asphalted public roads run along two of its borders, giving the land direct road access.

Picture planning a home here, close enough to walk into the village for everyday errands, with a neighbourhood of houses and cultivated parcels all around. Cafés, shops and green spaces are a short drive away, so daily needs stay within easy reach.

An unpretentious, inviting piece of Anageia, with roads on two sides and the village centre close by.
