Description
A short distance from the heart of Psimolofou, this residential field of 5,064 m² sits among village homes and open parcels of land. It is a setting with a clear local identity, where new houses already stand beside untouched plots and village life carries on around them.

The land lies in a residential zone, so there is room here for a home of up to two floors. With its generous size, there is space to imagine a house set well within its own ground, with village homes on one side and open land on the other.

Everyday needs stay close at hand. The village centre and its shops are a short drive away. Schools are a short drive too, keeping the daily routine simple. The land has no direct road access.

A large piece of Psimolofou in a residential setting, close to the life of the village and ready for the home you have in mind.
