For Sale : € 160,000

Description
Restaurants and cafés within walking distance, the village centre a short drive away and open land all around: this residential plot in Kornos gives a future home room to breathe. Undeveloped parcels and scattered houses make up the neighbourhood, so the area keeps an open, village character.

At 2,022 m², the land is a regular rectangle with a sloping surface, and it has direct road access along its frontage. Its residential zoning allows a home of up to two floors, and the plot has the potential to be connected to electricity, water and telecommunications.

Picture the day starting with a stroll to a café, with schools, supermarkets and parks all a short drive away, and the neighbouring villages of Sia and Delikipos close at hand. The slope and the clean shape give a clear canvas for planning a house around the land.

Here, a home of your own can take shape with Kornos village life right on its doorstep.
